The New Jersey State Police FLEET Mentor Program is a long-term recruiting initiative between the New Jersey State Police, local communities, and the schools within those communities. The goal of the FLEET Program is to offer guidance to youth from those communities that have little experience with or knowledge of the State Police. The participating student-mentees, or Cadets, will pursue two complementary tracks over the course of five years (8th grade through 12th grade): the mentoring component and the educational component. In the mentoring component, Cadets will meet routinely with their assigned trooper-mentor to develop a close, lasting relationship. In the educational component, Cadets will engage in breakout groups, field trips, and demonstrations to learn about law enforcement, life skills, and criminal justice in general. Through those two tracks, the program aims to inspire positive attitudes toward law enforcement among the Cadets and their peers, and strives to develop the overall competence and potential of every Cadet. By building a strong relationship between the Cadets and the State Police, the program aspires to enhance the lives of the Cadets, and possibly lead them to pursue careers as New Jersey State Troopers as described below and attached. Five 8th grade students will be chosen to participate in the program for the next 5 years (grades 8-12).
